For Immediate Release 3 April, 2009

The Cream of OZ Music at the 2009 Deniliquin Ute Muster

Every year the Deni Ute Muster reaches new heights, now nationally recognised as one of the largest rural themed Festival's in Australia.

2009 will be no exception with a massive smorgasbord of Top Australian artists now confirmed, showcasing the diversity of the Festival which attracts all ages and genres whilst keeping its strong iconic Australian identity.

Over the past 3 years Festival organizers have branched out the Main Stage Concert lineup by introducing some of Australia's finest mainstream musicians into the program.

John Harvie, Festival Director is rapt with the 2009 Main Stage Concert Lineup.

"This is our biggest and best lineup in the history of the Festival.

Friday night concert will focus on our top Country Music Artists headlining: Troy Cassar-Daley, Adam Harvey, The Sunny Cowgirls, Catherine Britt and Kirsty Lee Akers.

Saturday night concert will incorporate mainstream acts headlining Powderfinger along with The Angels, Beccy Cole, Travis Collins and Sinead Burgess.

We are providing two massive evening concerts for people of all ages, tastes and backgrounds. It can be difficult to cater for everyone but this year we are confident the 20,000 or so patrons will not be disappointed", he said.

Now plans are underway to ensure that the day entertainment is top class with some new and exciting action packed events soon to be announced.

The Festival caters for all ages ranging from children, families, adults through to retirees with camping facilities available to suit everyone's preference.

Set on the flattest open plains on earth the site includes a huge Family camping area that caters for sedans, caravans, camper trailers and mobile homes so if you don't have a ute – don't despair, everyone can still be part of this national iconic event.
